Climate crisis urgently demands that we re-evaluate and shift our attitudes, beliefs and behaviors. A fresh look at St. Benedict's 12 steps of humility offers insights for deep transformation of consciousness and action. The culminating vision of Benedict's ancient spiritual path is of a whole, healthy human bowing in reverence and love for all of creation. This workshop will explore this ancient teaching as a guide for individuals and communities living a new relationship with a planet in crisis for today and into the future.
